This is an event at which books will be for sale.
The library will be open for sales before and after school so parents can attend and assist their child with his/her purchases.

All Book Fair purchases benefit our school and help fund more books for our school library.

Throughout the book fair week, classes will be visiting the library to look at the books for sale. There will be no sales during the class visits, instead children will need to come before or after school with an adult to buy their books.

Parents who cannot make it to the book fair, can send money with their child in an envelope, clearly labelled with the child’s name and amount enclosed. Leonie or another St Joachim’s Book Fair staff member will assist your child with his / her purchases. Please make sure that your child arrives early enough to visit in the morning session to ensure that the money does not get lost during the day.

Would you like to donate a book to the St Joachim’s library?

Many families in the past have taken the opportunity to buy a book to donate to the school library. Each donation will provide enjoyment for children for years to come. As a token of appreciation, every donation will be recognised with a bookplate identifying your family or child as the benefactor. Grandparents may also love to donate a book to the library! Ask them!

We hope to see you at the book fair!

Mum & Dad Helpers Needed

Can you help out at the Book Fair for an hour or so?
The work is easy but we do have busy times where one or two more people would help with the sales.
